Product short description:

For children with a very big, dominating personality, who like to be in charge and tell others what to do. It aids one to be open to new experiences and ways of doing things; addresses any obsession; assists the perfectionist who is totally unhappy unless things are the way they feel that they should be and where everyone has to do it their way. Essences have been included for stubbornness, self-centredness and to be more open to the needs of those around them.
